The United States and Its Nuclear Waste Problem

Nuclear power has been around for many years in the form of nuclear weapons and nuclear reactors. The negative aspect of this power has only recently been discovered. Many years of testing and developing were spent to be able harness this great power. A large amount of waste has been produced from this development, and the United States is now realizing it has large amounts of radioactive waste. (Goldschmidt, 2010)

Goldschmidt, P. (2010). Multilateral nuclear fuel supply guarantees & spent fuel management: what are the priorities? [Article]. Daedalus, 139(1), 7-19.
