We're helping write a better future for those who need a hand.

Making a difference in the world often starts in your own community. That's why at the Domestic Violence Service Center in Wilkes-Barre, you'll find senior Erin Robinson coordinating writing workshops for local survivors of domestic violence. These seminars help women compose resumes and cover letters, boosting their confidence as they begin a new chapter in life. More than just impacting individuals, our Army of Colonels is strengthening a region—turning difficult situations into the potential for all of us to achieve so much more.
